FOREWORD

The Economics Division, Marketing Service of the Dominion Department of Agriculture herewith presents its third Directory of Co-operative Associations in Canada. Prior to 1929 a similar directory was published annually by the Department of Labour but this service was discontinued when the Economics Division was established in October of that year. Instead, an annual statistical summary of the progress of co-operatives was substituted beginning in 1932. The 17th Annual Summary was published in July 1949. There remained, however, a demand for a directory and from records transferred by the Department of Labour and from later information, a Directory was published in 1936 containing the names of 1,296 associations.

In 1945 a second Directory was published listing the names and addresses of 2,063 associations. Since 1945 many changes have taken place in numbers, functions, and business volume of co-operative associations and accordingly it was decided to revise the 1945 Directory and bring it up to date.

Co-operative associations in Canada are rapidly assuming large proportions in the economic life of the country especially in the field of agriculture. The 17th Annual Summary of Co-operation in Canada published in July 1949 reported a volume of business of almost $800 millions which was reported by 2,249 co-operative associations. Since such reporting is voluntary, not every association makes an annual return and therefore there are many more associations listed in this Directory than are reported on in the annual summary.

This Directory, therefore, lists all co-operative associations of which the Division has knowledge. Some may be inactive at the present time but all those known to be out of business have been excluded. Recent incorporations have been included but, naturally, information on these is as yet incomplete.

Associations are grouped by provinces which are in alphabetical order. Newfoundland is included for the first time but other than names and addresses, the information is incomplete. The names of the co-operative associations are listed alphabetically according to the post office address. The year of incorporation and the number of members is given and the type and volume of business are indicated by symbols which are explained in the notes which follow.

Associations listed are confined to those which market products or purchase supplies for their members or perform miscellaneous services. Also included are co-operatives engaged in manufacturing as well as those whose members are joined together to produce agricultural commodities. Credit unions, mutual fire and hail insurance companies, and mutual telephone companies are not listed. Other associations such as community halls, livestock improvement associations, agricultural societies and farmers' institutes, and organizations for purely social and educational purposes have also been omitted. Only when such associations have reported business operations of a major character have they been included.

The term "Co-operative Association" has been interpreted broadly. The test has been whether ownership and control of the business rests with those who use it. Most associations are incorporated under a provincial co-operative act, some under companies acts or by special acts. Generally where associations have been legally recognized by the co-operative laws of the province they are accepted herein as co-operative associations.

It should be pointed out that some of the associations listed in this Directory are doing business on a national or interprovincial scale and these are listed under the province in which the head office is situated. For example, The Canadian Co-operative Implements Ltd. has its head office and factory in Winnipeg and also has distributing warehouses, offices and service depots in Saskatchewan and Alberta. There is considerable duplication in co-operative membership and in volume of business. Farmers, especially, may and do belong to more than one co-operative and any total membership given in the accompanying tables must be read with the understanding that this duplication exists. Similarly there is duplication in the figures for the volume of business since the business of both central and local associations is reported. For example, the volume reported for the Co-operative Fédérée de Québec includes the value of their sales of farm products on behalf of their affiliated associations which has been already reported by the individual locals.

Grateful acknowledgement is made to all who have assisted in the preparation of this Directory, particularly the managers and accountants of the associations who have reported voluntarily to this office and to the provincial officials concerned with co-operative activity. The co-operative wholesales were particularly helpful in supplying correct names and addresses of their many locals.

The list was compiled from the accumulated records of the Economics Division by Fernand Guerard under the direction of J. E. O'Meara.

Explanatory Notes

Co-operatives in Canada are engaged mainly in either marketing farm products, purchasing supplies or providing some service. There are also some engaged in manufacturing and wholesaling. In this directory, co-operatives are classified by type according to their major activity as outlined above. The major activity is noted first in capital letters and the minor functions are in small letters. Accordingly, a co-operative whose major function is marketing but which also does some purchasing and provides some service would be designated thus: Mps.

Briefly the letters designating type are as follows:—

Marketing Co-operatives—	M
Purchasing Co-operatives —	P
Service Co-operatives—	S
Wholesale Co-operatives—	W
Manufacturing Co-operatives—	Mfg.
Production Co-operatives —	Prod.

Dollar volume of business is designated by the following key:—

AVANT-PROPOS

La Division de l'économie, Service des marchés, ministère fédéral de l'Agriculture, présente sa troisième Liste des coopératives canadiennes. Avant 1929, une liste semblable était publiée annuellement par le ministère du Travail, mais ce service fut discontinué après l'établissement de la Division de l'économie, en octobre de cette année-là. A compter de 1932, on la remplaça par un résumé statistique annuel des progrès réalisés par les coopératives. Le 17e Résumé annuel fut publié en juillet 1949. Toutefois, comme la demande pour une liste persistait, on en publia une en 1936, contenant les noms de 1,296 associations, d'après les dossiers transférés par le ministère du Travail et les renseignements obtenus par la suite.

En 1945, une deuxième liste fut publiée, donnant les noms et les adresses de 2,063 associations. Depuis cette année-là, il s'est produit bien des changements dans le nombre, les fonctions et le chiffre d'affaires des coopératives et, par conséquent, il fut décidé de reviser la liste de 1945 pour la mettre à jour.

Les coopératives canadiennes acquièrent rapidement une importance de plus en plus grande dans la vie économique, surtout dans le domaine de l'agriculture. Le 17e Résumé annuel de la coopération au Canada, publié en juillet 1949, signalait un chiffre d'affaires de presque 800 millions de dollars réalisé par 2,249 coopératives. Comme ces rapports sont facultatifs, ce ne sont pas toutes les associations qui fournissent un compte rendu annuel; la présente liste contient donc beaucoup plus de noms que le Résumé annuel.

Par conséquent, la présente liste indique toutes les coopératives connues de la Division. Certaines d'entre elles peuvent être inactives à l'heure actuelle, mais toutes celles qui ont cessé de fonctionner sont omises. Les récentes incorporations ont aussi été incluses mais, naturellement, les renseignements à leur égard ne sont pas encore complets.

Les coopératives sont groupées par provinces et ces dernières sont classées par ordre alphabétique. La province de Terre-Neuve y figure pour la première fois, mais à l'exception des noms et des adresses, les renseignements sont incomplets. Les noms des coopératives sont donnés par ordre alphabétique d'après leur adresse postale. L'année de l'incorporation et le nombre de membres sont fournis et le genre et le chiffre d'affaires est indiqué par des symboles qui sont expliqués dans les notes qui suivent.

La présente liste ne comprend que les coopératives qui vendent des produits ou qui achètent des fournitures pour leurs membres ou rendent différents services, celles qui s'occupent de fabrication et celles dont les membres s'unissent pour produire des denrées agricoles. Elle ne comprend pas les caisses populaires, les compagnies d'assurance mutuelle contre le feu et la grêle ni les compagnies mutuelles de téléphone. D'autres associations comme les salles publiques, les sociétés d'amélioration des bestiaux, les sociétés d'agriculture, les instituts de cultivateurs et les organismes dont les fins sont purement sociales et instructives, ont été omises également. Ces associations n'ont été incluses que lorsqu'elles accusaient un chiffre d'affaires très important.

Le terme "coopérative" ou "société coopérative" a été interprété de façon assez large. On l'a limité aux sociétés qui sont possédées et exploitées par ceux-là mêmes qui s'en servent. La plupart des coopératives sont constituées en corporation en vertu d'une loi provinciale des coopératives, quelques-unes en vertu des lois concernant les compagnies ou par des lois spéciales. En général, lorsque des associations ont été reconnues légalement par des lois provinciales concernant les coopératives, elles sont acceptées dans cette province comme sociétés coopératives.

Il est à noter que quelques-unes des sociétés figurant dans la présente liste fonctionnent sur une échelle nationale ou interprovinciale; ces quelques coopératives paraissent sous la province dans laquelle se trouve le siège social. Par exemple, la Canadian Co-operative Implements Ltd. a son siège social et sa fabrique à Winnipeg et elle a des entrepôts de distribution, des bureaux et des agences de service en Saskatchewan et en Alberta. Il y a beaucoup de duplication en ce qui concerne le nombre de membres des coopératives et le chiffre d'affaires. Les cultivateurs en particulier peuvent appartenir et de fait appartiennent à plus d'une coopérative, et le nombre total de membres indiqué dans les tableaux ci-annexés doit-être lu en se rappelant qu'il y a duplication. De même, il y a duplication des chiffres d'affaires, car le rapport fournit aussi bien le chiffre d'affaires de la société centrale que celui des filiales ou sociétés locales. Par exemple, le chiffre d'affaires signalé pour la Coopérative Fédérée de Québec comprend la valeur des ventes de produits agricoles effectuées par cette association au nom de leurs filiales, valeur qui a déjà été signalée par les différentes sociétés locales.

Nous remercions vivement tous ceux qui nous ont aidés à préparer la présente liste, surtout les gérants et les comptables des associations qui ont bénévolement fait rapport à notre bureau et les fonctionnaires provinciaux de la coopération. Les coopératives de gros nous ont fourni une aide spéciale en indiquant les noms et adresses exacts de leurs nombreuses sociétés locales.

La liste a été dressée par M. Fernand Guérard, sous la direction de M. J. E. O'Meara, d'après les dossiers de la Division de l'économie.

Notes explicatives

Les coopératives canadiennes s'adonnent surtout à la vente de produits agricoles, à l'achat de fournitures ou rendent certains services spéciaux. Certaines d'entre elles s'occupent aussi de fabrication et de transactions en gros. Dans la présente liste, les coopératives sont classées d'après leur activité principale, décrites ci-dessus. L'activité principale est notée d'abord en lettres majuscules et les fonctions moins importantes sont indiquées en lettres minuscules. Par conséquent, une coopérative dont la fonction principale est la vente, mais qui fait également quelques achats et rend certains services serait désignée comme il suit: Mps.

En résumé, voici les lettres qui désignent le genre:—

Coopératives de ventes—	M
Coopératives d'achats—	P
Coopératives de service—	S
Coopératives de gros—	W
Coopératives de fabrication—	Mfg.
Coopératives de production—	Prod.

Le chiffre d'affaires en dollars est désigné de la façon suivante:—

$ 25,000.	—	$	49,999.	— 2
$ 50,000.	—	$	99,999.	— 3
